

A Safe & Enjoyable Environment to Learn

At Mayfield Education we are pleased to maintain a safe and supportive learning environment. This ensures that you are able to reach your goals and succeed. This means that we accept diversity and the richness that students will often bring in their range of experience and knowledge to the course.

We promote an adult learning environment that is challenging and fun. We use the latest technology to enhance your experience. Much learning time is undertaken outside of the class room sessions. The amount of homework and other activities associated with your course will be explained to you in information sessions and at course induction.

A safe and enjoyable learning environment requires all staff and students to be respectful towards each other and to ensure that we support each other. We acknowledge that it is our unique differences which makes working in a people industry most exciting. We respect each other's opinions and allow each other to express their views. There is no such thing as a silly question at Mayfield Education and we encourage all students to be open in their communication.

We believe communication is the most important tool a health care professional can have

For this reason we do ask that you all respect the classroom etiquette and rules which prohibit the use of mobile phones and other communication devices. These can be very disruptive. We ask you also to refrain from other activities which can distract everyone including talking and eating.

Much work is put into the preparation of class sessions so we ask you to respect the learning process and our facilitators. We source the very best experts in their field to contribute to your learning so we appreciate rewarding them with our attention.

What do former students' say?

"I completed my Cert IV Allied Health Assistance in 2011. Our classes were conducted by a range of Physiotherapists, Occupational Therapists, Speech Pathologists and other specialities. This variety provided me with a greater appreciation of the allied health fields and also affirmed my desire to work with and help others. Five weeks of clinical placement, further inspired me to learn more. This year I commenced a Bachelor of Occupational Therapy at Deakin University. Already I have found the content and experience I gained at Mayfield incredibly beneficial in my studies."
